From the Desk of Our Pastor

Getting your Love Life Straight

We were all made to be in love. I remember the first time I fell in love. I was four years old, and the little blond in Sunday School seemed to be an angel. I still remember the feeling of awe, longing for beauty, just being around her. If we are not in love, no matter who we are or what our circumstances, or our age, we are not living our life to the fullest.

Jesus tells us in the Gospel passage this week that we must get our love life straightened out. Not all loves are the same. Jesus tells us that whoever loves father or mother, son or daughter, or even life itself, more than Him, is not worthy of Him. In the parallel passage in Luke, Jesus is audacious enough to say that we must hate our family and even our own lives to be a disciple.

What does all this mean? Our love for the Eternal must be on a completely different level than our love for temporal things. Granted, our family and lives are made up of immortal souls and of utmost worth. But God, by definition, is incomparable to anything in creation and the perfection of all holiness, glory, and beauty. Because Jesus Himself is the very manifestation of God in the flesh, He demands our complete love. If the family would hold us back, as it so often does when certain members are “all out” for Jesus, our love for God must be strong enough to withstand these pressures.

There is something about the nature of love that is critical to know here. When all our love is focused on God, our love for the people and things of this temporal world is made pure and intensifies. The well from which it flows from our innermost being will never run dry. We learn to gift ourselves to others rather than use or control them to our ends.

So, Jesus is challenging us to get our love life straightened out. There is nothing more enjoyable than to be in love. Just think, you do not have to be young and in your physical prime to experience the profound joy of loving and being loved. God is madly in love with us all even if you are, like me, old and gnarly. To return that love is pure joy!

Yours in Christ,
Father John Worgul
Pastor
