From the Desk of Our Pastor

How Do We Know That We Know?

Practically everyone feels on some level they are right. But not everyone is right, and nobody is right all the time. So, how do we know that we are right about the essential matters of life? How do we know that we know? Our readings help us sort this out.

In our Acts reading, St. Paul, a new-born disciple of Christ, finds himself in a totally different place than he was just few weeks before. Before, he was dead certain the Christians were evil and must be destroyed, and he actively participated in their destruction. Now he was preaching Christ with so much conviction that his old crowd was trying to kill him. Before he followed his conscience, but his conscience was not formed by Christ, and he was wrong. The fruit of his deeds were hatred and violence. Now Christ formed his conscience, and he was right, and the fruit of his deeds were saved souls.

Our Epistle reading re-enforces this truth about our consciences. The Apostle John says, “This is how we shall know that we belong to the truth and reassure our hearts before him in whatever our hearts condemn, for God is greater than our hearts and knows everything.” This means that when we act contrary to our conscience, wounding our heart, our conscience condemns us, but God is bigger than our wounded heart, and knows “everything,” that is, He knows why we do what we do, and can teach and heal us. If our hearts do not condemn us, we can have the confidence to ask Him anything, because we have obedient hearts. A heart that believes and obeys is said to “remain,” or “abide” in Him, and we know that we are right because the Holy Spirit affirms us.

This takes us right into the Gospel where Jesus uses vineyard language to illustrate this same truth. Every branch that does not “abide” in Him withers on its own, and Jesus Himself will take the dead branches to the fire. Those which do bear fruit, He prunes. If we respond well to His pruning, that is, the trials He allows to come our way, our faith is strengthened, and the Holy Spirit within naturally brings forth supernatural fruit, that is, thoughts, speech, and deeds that we by nature would never have on our own. It is by such fruit that we know how we stand with God, and we rejoice in this confidence.

Yours in Christ,
Father John Worgul

Stewardship Prayer

My church is composed of people like me. I help make it what it is.

It will be friendly, if I am.

Its pews will be filled, if I help fill them.

It will do great work, if I work.

It will make generous gifts to many causes, if I am a generous giver.

It will bring other people into its worship and fellowship, if I invite and bring them.

It will be a church of loyalty and love, of fearlessness and faith, and a church with a noble spirit, if I, who make it, am filled with these same things.

Therefore, with your help, Lord, I shall dedicate myself to the task of being all the things that I want my church to be.

Amen.

Relic stone embedded in the altar of Saint Joseph Eldersburg

Stone inscription: Et Ossibus S. Victorianae et Aliorum

Translation: "From the bones of Saint Victorian and others"
(possibly the merchants who were martyred with him)

Saint Victorian Feast Day March 23

Died in the year 484 C.E.

Saint Victorian was Martyred in Carthage with four other wealthy fellow merchants, including Frumentius. Initially named proconsul by Hunneric, the Arian king of the Vandals, he was seized and put under pressure to convert to Arianism. When he refused, he was executed with the other merchants after being tortured at Adrumetum.

Saints Victorian, Frumentius and Companions are venerated as Christian martyrs of the Roman Catholic Church. They were killed at Hadrumetum in 484 by the Arian Vandals. Accounts of their martyrdom state that Huneric, King of the Vandals, began persecuting Catholic priests and virgins in 480, and by 484 began persecuting simple believers as well. Victorian was a wealthy Catholic of Hadrumetum who had been appointed proconsul by Hunneric. He served as an obedient administrator to the king until he was asked to convert to Arianism. Victorian refused and was tortured and killed.

The Roman Martyrology states that four other wealthy merchants were martyred on the same day as Victorian's death. Two were named Frumentius; they were merchants of Carthage. The other two were brothers of the city of Aquae Regiae, Byzacena, who were killed at Tabaia.

A special thank you to:

- ♥ Archbishop William E. Lori for his enthusiastic support of our stained-glass window project and for his presence with us today.
- ♥ Matthew Regan, Project Manager assigned by Archbishop Lori, to work side by side with our Facilities Director to bring the project to a successful completion.
- ♥ George Reed, Senior Director for fundraising/campaigns, assigned by Archbishop Lori to assist Fr. John, Lauren Glass and Tom Schwartz with the fundraising efforts for the stained-glass and structural reinforcement projects.
- ♥ Dan Brown who uniquely designed and crafted the beautiful candelabra pedestals and also serves as a sacristan for our parish.
- ♥ Lawrence Wroten, an accomplished wood craftsman, who skillfully installed the Saint Victorian relic stone into the altar.
- ♥ Fr. Francis J. Peffley who graciously allowed us to include his writings about the Two Josephs in our stained-glass booklet.
- ♥ Grant T. Orr whose company refurbished the tabernacle and also fabricated the new top. The tabernacle was in use from 1964 to 1998 in our former church building that was converted into the Parish Center in 2006.
- ♥ Kathy Jordan, Director of Art Development for Willet Hauser who along with her staff created the artwork for the windows.
- ♥ Associated Crafts & Willet Hauser, the architectural glass company who took our vision and made it a reality.
- ♥ The Beautification Committee of Father John Worgul, Father Armando Alejandro, Robin Warren, Robert Muhl, Patty Richter and Tom Schwartz whose creativity and perseverance brought the story and parallels of the Two Josephs to our Sanctuary.
- ♥ And finally, a very special thank you to our parishioners who without their continued generosity and support this project would not have been possible.
