From the Desk of Our Pastor

It Takes Work to Believe

Last week, we established the “sign” of the Feeding of the 5000 central to the structure of John’s Gospel, and the Bread of Life Discourse was built upon it. For some reason, the miracle of Jesus walking across the sea was left out of our reading (John 6:16-23), but it is essential to the meaning of our text. This miracle is not a “sign” like the others, but is placed in between the Feeding of the 5000 and the Bread of Life Discourse to demonstrate that Jesus was not merely a second Moses providing bread, but is God Himself in the flesh, for only God can tread upon the watery deep, which symbolizes death.

Somehow, the bewildered crowd found Jesus on the other side of the lake. Jesus searches their hearts and sees that they are now not looking for a sign to believe in Him, a constant theme in this Gospel, but follow Him because He fills their bellies with the best of bread. He tells them “not to work for the food that perishes, but the food that endures for eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you.” They respond, how do we work for this? Jesus said, “This is the work of God, that you believe the one he sent.” He then informs them that the bread God is offering them now is greater than what Moses gave the Israelites. This piques their interest, and they respond, “Sir, give us this bread always,” to which Jesus responds, “I am the Bread of Life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst.”

Jesus is telling us something about faith here specifically geared to the Eucharist. This faith demands us to believe what looks like bread is His Body, and what looks like wine is his blood. This takes work for all of us. It is one thing to believe in God; many people believe this intuitively. But to believe in the Eucharist is hard work. Why? Every phenomenon we see in this world, whether a tree, a mountain, a stream, or a flower, is distinctly what it looks like. To say a tree is a mountain is sheer craziness! All truth and communication depend on our ability to distinguish and classify!

The Eucharist is the only thing on earth that is not what it looks like. It looks like bread and wine, but it is something completely different. To say this and believe it takes courage, humility, and a bold devotion to Jesus and his declaration that it is so. Doing this work is part of how the Eucharist changes us.

Yours in Christ,
Father John Worgul

THE Stewardship CORNER

“It is not what I do that matters, but what a sovereign God chooses to do through me. God does not want worldly successes, He wants me. He wants my heart in submission to Him. Life is not just a few years to spend on self indulgence and career advancement. It is a privilege, a responsibility, a stewardship to be lived according to a much higher calling, God's calling. This alone gives true meaning to life.”

~ Elizabeth Dole
