Jesus the Bread of Life

As we follow the Gospel narrative as if it was our first time reading it, we would most probably think Jesus is speaking symbolically here when Jesus claims to be the “Bread of Life that comes down from heaven.” After all, Moses tells us in Deuteronomy that “man must not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God” (Deut. 8:3). This is called the “sapiential” interpretation of Jesus as the bread of life. Sapiential comes from the Latin word for wisdom, and the idea here is that we must live on every word that proceeds from Jesus’s mouth and everything recorded about Him.

We Catholics need not be afraid of the truth of this sapiential interpretation up to a point. We often focus on the Mass as the sacrificial act that it is, and rightly so. However, we must not do this to the exclusion of Word of God as Scripture; of Jesus who is the verbal communication of God. In fact, the first half of the Mass, the “Liturgy of the Word,” is essential in setting the tone of the “Liturgy of the Eucharist.” But we must feed on Jesus, the Word of God Incarnate, by meditating on His life and teachings, as well as the whole of the Old Testament, of which He is the fulfillment, in our daily life. In this way we can learn much from our Protestant brothers and sisters.

Our Gospel ends with the very poignant words, “... and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world.” Again, this can be interpreted sapientially, referring to Jesus’ incarnation and sacrifice on the cross. As we shall see in next week’s Gospel, Jesus will press this with undeniable and inescapable Eucharistic meaning. Here we separate paths from the usual Protestant sapiential interpretation for the rest of John 6.

There are many historical, sociological, and theological reasons the Protestants broke away from what the Catholic Eucharist. And if we are to believe the statistics, many Catholics do not believe the Eucharist to be the Body and Blood of our Lord. From my perspective, this lack of belief does not come from Scripture, but from an innate rationalism picked up from the humanism of the Renaissance, carried on by the Reformation, and coming to full expression in the Enlightenment. Only a simple faith in Jesus’ own clear teaching on the Eucharist can break the soul free of this rationalism that excludes the mystery and the miracle of the Mass.

Yours in Christ,
Father John Worgul

The Year of Formation 2024 - 2025

Did you know there are six components of Catholic formation: (1) to promote knowledge of the faith, (2) to promote knowledge of the meaning of the liturgy and the sacraments, (3) to promote moral formation in Jesus Christ, (4) to teach us how to pray, (5) to prepare one to live in community, by participating actively in the life of the Church, and (6) to promote a missionary spirit that is outward looking to society. These components are represented in our SJCC vision statement: “Embracing Christ’s Life & Reflecting His Love.” How are you being formed? How can SJCC accompany you in the Year of Formation?

Interested in Scouting? Want to learn more?

Pack 883 and Troops 883B and 883G will be hosting a recruiting drive before and after all Masses the weekend of August 24th & 25th.

Did you know Scouting is available here at SJCC?

Children who are incoming grades K-5 can join our Church's Pack, while those going into 6th -12th grade can join one of our great Troops. Scouting is open to both boys and girls for all grade levels. Both the Pack and Troops have wonderful summer activities, so it's not too early to get involved with our great Scouting ministry here at SJCC.

Please come by and say "Hi"! Have any older, lightly used Scout uniforms? Have any family members that do? Please consider bringing them to Church during 883's recruiting weekend on August 24th & 25th and donating them as we look to build our Scouting clothing closet.

Support the Troop by eating at Chick-Fil-A on August 22nd!

“In all of my years of service to my Lord, I have discovered a truth that has never failed and has never been compromised. That truth is that it is beyond the realm of possibilities that one has the ability to out-give God. Even if I give the whole of my worth to Him, He will find a way to give back to me much more than I gave.”
~ Charles Spurgeon
