Feeding on Jesus

We apologize for duplicating my letter of August 11, 2024, you can read my intended letter at saintjoseph.cc/bulletin.

In my homily last week at the 8:00 and 10:45 masses, I pointed out that John 6:51 was the pivotal verse for understanding Jesus' teaching in the Bread of Life Discourse. Jesus is serving us a two-course meal. The first course is Jesus as the Word of God. Behind the Feeding of the Five Thousand is God's provision of manna in the desert, to which Jesus identifies Himself. Every reader would hear behind these words Moses' admonition, "Man shall not live by Bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God" (Deuteronomy 8:4) Jesus, the eternal "Word of God" who was with the Father before time (John 1:1ff.), is the "bread which came down from heaven." All Scripture speaks of Jesus; by meditating on it, we feed on Jesus, the truth of His words, and the reality of His incarnation. When we do this, we are "God taught" (6:45).

The meal's second course begins with verse 51: "...the bread which I will give for the life of the world is my flesh." This transitions the reader beyond Christ as Word and His incarnation to the Holy Eucharist. If His hearers were uncomfortable with Jesus earlier in the discourse, they are profoundly shaken at this point, saying "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" Jesus' response takes us entirely out of the metaphor and the symbolic realm. With a metaphor, like "I am the door of the sheep," it is clear that Jesus is not a door in its everyday sense, but in a spiritual sense, teaching us a deeper meaning. There is no "deeper meaning," but we are left with the raw reality of Jesus' flesh and blood.

If there is any doubt, Jesus removes it in v. 55, "for my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed." The Greek word (alethes), translated as "indeed," links Jesus' body and blood without any wiggle room to bread and drink. Colloquially, it can be rendered, "no joking!" Jesus' physical, incarnate body now becomes the Tree of Life lost in the Garden of Eden, sacramentally uniting the human race to eternal life, body and soul.

As I said in my homily last week, when I was a Protestant, I feasted deeply on the Word of God. But I always felt something was missing. Since I became Catholic and embraced the sacraments, especially the Holy Eucharist, that feeling has completely gone away.

Yours in Christ,
Father John Worgul

The Year of Formation 2024 - 2025

Did you know there are six components of Catholic formation: (1) to promote knowledge of the faith, (2) to promote knowledge of the meaning of the liturgy and the sacraments, (3) to promote moral formation in Jesus Christ, (4) to teach us how to pray, (5) to prepare one to live in community, by participating actively in the life of the Church, and (6) to promote a missionary spirit that is outward looking to society. These components are represented in our SJCC vision statement: “Embracing Christ’s Life & Reflecting His Love.” How are you being formed? How can SJCC accompany you in the Year of Formation?

Interested in Scouting? Want to learn more?

Pack 883 and Troops 883B and 883G will be hosting a recruiting drive before and after all Masses the weekend of August 24th & 25th.

Did you know Scouting is available here at SJCC?

Children who are incoming grades K-5 can join our Church's Pack, while those going into 6th -12th grade can join one of our great Troops. Scouting is open to both boys and girls for all grade levels. Both the Pack and Troops have wonderful summer activities, so it's not too early to get involved with our great Scouting ministry here at SJCC.

Please come by and say "Hi"! Have any older, lightly used Scout uniforms? Have any family members that do? Please consider bringing them to Church during 883's recruiting weekend on August 24th & 25th and donating them as we look to build our Scouting clothing closet.

Support the Troop by eating at Chick-Fil-A on August 22nd!
