Thoughts Shared by Our Pastor...

The Enemy in the Streets

My Dear Family,

Why are matters of sexual morality so hard to talk about around our family tables and in our church environment? Why are we so quiet? There are various reasons. I find Catholics often are still hung up with embarrassment about their bodies, suffering from ancient misconceptions infiltrating the Church through gnostic ideologies that reject the goodness of creation. Another reason is that we live in a polarized world, affecting our families and our congregation, about sexual mores. Who wants the fight? Either way, fear rules; rather than face the issue straight on, we sink into silence.

We must realize that behind fear and silence is the faceless presence of Satan. We are embarrassed to talk about him as well. Our culture depicted him in a red onesie with a pointed tail and horned head, saw how ridiculous he looked, and then discarded him as a figment of our imagination. To speak of him as a reality is to be deemed unsophisticated. We freely speak of evil, but not of the devil. However, Holy Scripture speaks far more of the devil than “evil.” It is critical to know that Satan is the master of incognito; he doesn’t want people to be aware of him, to see him as he really is, or else everyone without exception would flee from his ugliness.

Just as we believe that all the goodness, beauty, and truth surrounding us is not random, but reflects the design of our Creator, so we cannot believe that all the evil, ugliness, and lies around us are mere random occurrences, but reflect the malicious design of Satan, the fallen archangel. By his fall, he lost all the powers and privileges of his original position; he can only work through deceit and fear.

My children in the Lord, our bodies are the arenas in which our life dramas are played out. The devil has no power to force himself on us; in this way he is said to be a “gentleman.” He must come through our invitation; his lies are the way he enters. His motive is envy; he cannot stand our happiness, so he constructs an alternative utopia, a “joy” apart from God, where he appeals to our senses, thus opening a way to enter in and to destroy.

But we are aware of him and are not afraid. By the power of God, we will protect our families and church, and go out into the streets in joyful love to help those in need.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. John Worgul

Good and gracious God, On this Thanksgiving Day, we pause with grateful hearts to remember Your constant care for us.

You are the giver of every good gift– the hope that sustains us, the love that binds our families together, and the joy that fills our parish community.

We thank You for the blessing of this meal and for the hands that prepared it.
We thank You for the gift of family and friends, for those present with us today, and for those we hold close in our hearts.

Bless our parish of Saint Joseph: strengthen the ministries that serve Your people, comfort those who are lonely, and provide for those who are in need.

Make us generous stewards of Your gifts, eager to share our blessings with others.

As we gather around this table, fill our home with Your peace and our hearts with Your compassion. Keep us mindful of Your presence in every season, and help us walk each day in gratitude and grace.

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Take the Advent Detox Challenge in 2025...

This Advent, take time to quiet the digital noise and make more room for Christ. Join SJCC in a Digital Detox—an invitation to step away from screens, social media, and constant notifications to focus on prayer, presence, and peace.

Each day, choose to replace digital distractions with moments that draw you closer to God: time in Scripture (Daily Readings included in booklet), conversation with family, or quiet reflection.

Let this season of waiting become a season of listening—to the still, small voice of Christ speaking in the silence.

Stewards Grateful

*"...giving thanks to the Father, who has made you fit to share in the inheritance of the holy ones in light."
Colossians 1:12*

God wants us to be happy! Instead of looking at the Ten Commandments as being restrictive and telling us what we can't do, look at them as guides for living a joy-filled and peaceful life. Most of our problems arise when we put our own needs first or we spend most of our time trying to acquire more stuff. Instead, try putting God through Stewardship first in all things. We were made for God. Open your heart and let Him in!
